

Copyright Transfer Statement

Editorial Office of Journal of Forensic Medicine

Article Title _____

(Manuscript No. _____ )

In accordance with the Copyright Law of the People's Republic of China, authors agree to transfer the copyright (in all kinds of media) and related property rights of the article specified above (hereinafter referred to as "the article") to the Journal of Forensic Medicine worldwide from the date when the article is submitted to the editorial office. Journal of Forensic Medicine has, but not limited to, the following rights for part or full text of the article: the right of compilation, distribution, reproduction, translation, online publishing and dissemination, etc., and has right to license retrieval systems, network or database systems to include or index the article. Journal of Forensic Medicine accepts the article to be published in the journal and charges article processing fees. After publication, a one-off remuneration shall be paid to authors according to relevant regulations. Second-time publication of the article by Journal of Forensic Medicine or licensed third-parties would not charge any fees nor provide any remuneration.

Journal of Forensic Medicine is an open access journal. Once published, all articles will be immediately and permanently available for readers to read and download free of charge. Permitted third party reuse of the articles published by the journal is defined by the following user license: Creative Commons Attribution-NonCommercial-NoDerivatives 4.0 (CC BY-NC-ND 4.0). This license allows reusers to copy and redistribute the material in any medium or format. The licensor cannot revoke these freedoms as long as the license terms below are followed: reusers must give appropriate credit, provide a link to the license, and indicate if changes were made. Reusers may do so in any reasonable manner, but not in any way that suggests the licensor endorses the use. Reusers may not use the material for commercial purposes. If reusers remix, transform, or build upon the material, they may not distribute the modified material.

Authors have right to reproduce the article for personal use. They can spread or make use of the article under the CC BY-NC-ND 4.0 License, and have other rights specified in the Copyright Law.

Authors guarantee that the article submitted to the journal is an original achievement independently obtained by the authors, and does not involve confidential issues, conflict of interests, academic misconduct or violation of laws or regulations. The journal does not infringe the copyright or any other rights of third-parties. Contents from other works are properly cited or acknowledged. The article will not be submitted to other journals for publishing.
